About Me

Self-taught front-end developer with a strong foundation in HTML, CSS, and SASS. Familiar with JavaScript and ReactJS concepts. Experienced in utilizing NPM and Yarn package managers, as well as implementing TailwindCSS for creating responsive and visually appealing web interfaces. Eager to expand skills and grow as a Frontend Developer.

Courses

Mimo "Web Development"

Jul 2023

After completing this course, I gained the necessary knowledge and practical skills to design and build dynamic websites. I look forward to using the knowledge I have gained to create engaging, user-friendly websites that will have a lasting impact on both users and businesses.

Meta Front-End Developer Specialization

Sep 2023

Honestly, pretty solid course. A lot of people were saying this course isn't for beginners but I would strongly disagree. I think the difficulty is FAIR, and really gets your brain thinking logically.

Stfalcon "Frontend development"

Present

An interesting course in which I want to get practice in teamwork, improve my JS skills and get acquainted with Vue.js
